FILIPINOS WOULD PUT BAN ON RECRUITING LABOR FOR HAWAII

Suggestion Made That Native
Lawyer and Doctor Come to Make Investigation

That an effort is being made to block further importation to Hawaii of labor from the Philippines is most evident from news items contained in the press of Manila, drastic measures of legislation being in view according to the reports.

The following from the Manila Bulletin of recent date tells the story: Speaker Osmeña yesterday afternoon delivered to the assembly a communication received by him from prominent members of the Filipino labor colony at Hawaii, requesting that the government here send to the colony a Filipino lawyer and a Filipino doctor to look out for the interests of the laborers. Should this prove to be impracticable it is requested that the assembly take steps to compel a government investigation into the conditions obtaining there.

In view of the fact that no little criticism has found place in the columns of the native press here with regard to the conditions reported to exist among the laborers taken from the islands on contract for work in Hawaiian sugar fields, there is reason to believe that the assembly, while possibly not going to the extent suggested by the communication referred to, will attempt legislation during the present session designed to protect the Filipinos from what they allege to be unscrupulous exploitation. One measure, which if approved, will completely kill further attempts to export laborers from the islands, has already been introduced.

Commenting on the measure referred to above the Bulletin, of an earlier date, says:

The insatiable desire to swell the insular coffers, so recently manifested by that vitriolic monologue artist, Collector J. J. Rafferty, would appear to have found an echo in the heart of at least one of the assembly's budding political lights, but a closer examination into the provisions of a bill introduced in the lower house on Saturday by Assemblyman de la Rosa of this city discloses the fact that another and far more subtle motive has actuated the speaker's henchman in the framing of a measure which is in reality aimed to prevent the recruiting of Filipino labor for the sugar fields of Hawaii.

The author of the bill admits this to be his intention, and even a cursory reading of the text of the measure will convince the most skeptical of the success which aids fair to crown his efforts should the bill meet the approval of both houses.

This noteworthy document provides that every person, company or corporation engaged, either directly or indirectly, in the recruiting, contracting or embarking of laborers in the Philippines for any purpose outside of the territory included within the limits of the archipelago shall pay in addition to all the taxes now imposed by the internal revenue law the sum of $1000 for each person so recruited, contracted or embarked. This sum is in the nature of a direct tax.

In addition to the amounts already mentioned, $2000 more for each person must be deposited with the government to insure the faithful fulfillment of all the conditions of the contract. The contract cannot be for a term of more than three years, and shall be null and void without the approval of the director of labor. The $2000 deposit will not be returned to the contractor until 90 days after the expiration of the term of the contract and then only upon satisfactory proof that the laborer has been returned to the islands. In the event of the death of the laborer before the expiration of his contract, the deposit shall be confiscated and paid to his widow or other heirs.

The fate of this pretentious measure is not in great doubt.

Labor Trouble Reported Settled.

The following is taken from the latest file of Manila papers to reach Honolulu: A conference was held in the office of the secretary of commerce and police on Tuesday between the secretary, Mr. Mead of the Hawaiian Planters' Association, and the director of the bureau of labor, on the subject of the emigration of Filipino laborers to the Hawaiian sugar fields.

The conference was brought about by the complaints and charges that have been made from time to time that the Filipinos who have come to Hawaii had not been properly treated and that fraud had been practiced by the company in securing its laborers.

Mr. Mead, representing the company, came all the way from Hawaii to attend the conference. The whole subject was thoroughly gone into and satisfactorily cleared up. All misunderstandings were cleared up and the suggestions of the director of labor complied with.

The principle of the suggestions made was that all emigration of laborers to Hawaii should be under the supervision of the bureau of labor so that the emigrants might be well instructed in what they were face to face with and that their interests might be protected.

It was shown from disinterested sources that by far the greater number of Filipinos who had gone to Hawaii to work in the sugar fields were perfectly satisfied with their work and with the treatment they received.

MAUI NEWS

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]
WAILUKU, Maui, Nov. 18.—One of the pleasantest dances given on Maui for some time was that of last Wednesday evening at the Kahului Lyceum by the ladies of Kahului for the benefit of the Kahului kindergarten. A large number of people from all parts of Central Maui turned out for the motion pictures which were run the first part of the evening and were greatly enjoyed by everyone. The dance followed for which the Kahului Lyceum boys played most acceptable music. A good sum was realized for the Kahului kindergarten.

Rev. A. Craig Bowditch was asked by the Palama Settlement to superintend the sale of the Red Cross seals on Maui this year. He has appointed others to help him, and the sale has been highly successful. Eighty per cent of the proceeds will be used for the Kula sanatorium.

Less than 50 passengers have been booked at the agency of C. Brewer & Company for the mainland in the Oceanic liner Sierra scheduled to depart at noon Saturday.

CHICAGO STARTS CAMPAIGN FOR ARMY RESERVE

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.]
CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 19.—A movement was begun here yesterday to strengthen the national defense by the organization of a reserve composed of army veterans who served in the Cuban, Porto Rican, Philippine and China campaigns. It was estimated that there are approximately a million men who have had war service in these campaigns and are able to bear arms. Brig.-gen. Clarence R. Edwards of the regular army was elected vice-commander of the order.

U. OF C. PREX REFUSES ROLE OF GOOD SAMARITAN

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.]
BERKELEY, Cal., Nov. 19.—President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University of California has prohibited the use of the Greek theater for a benefit entertainment for the Belgian relief fund. His objection is based upon the ground that the structure cannot be used for a money raising scheme. Regent Crocker cites a precedent in a similar case, when a benefit entertainment was given to raise funds for the relief of the Valparaiso earthquake sufferers.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try It! Hair gets soft, fluffy and luxuriant at once—No more falling hair

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots tremble, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff, no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?—advertisement.

THREE REASONS FOR WAR GIVEN BY MR. ASQUITH

British Premier Says Germany
Would Have Domination of Entire Europe

[By Latest Mail]
LONDON, Eng. — Premier Asquith continued the educational campaign on which most of the prominent statesmen have embarked in connection with the war by addressing a great meeting at Edinburgh.

Speaking for over three-quarters of an hour to an audience which packed the Usher hall, Mr. Asquith aroused immense enthusiasm and the meeting undoubtedly helped to stimulate the already very brisk recruiting in Scotland, Edinburgh alone having at that date enlisted over 11,000 men.

In the course of his speech the premier said they were at war for three reasons. In the first place to vindicate the sanctity of treaty obligations and of what was properly called the public law of Europe; in the second place, to assert and enforce the independence of free states, relatively small and weak, against the encroachments and violence of the strong, and in the third place to withstand, as they believed, in the best interests not only of their own empire but of civilization at large, the arrogant claim of a single power to dominate the development of the destinies of Europe.

It had been said that their professed zeal for the treaty rights and the interests of small states was a simulated passion. As to that he referred them to two out of many illustrations very opposite to the present case, the invasion in 1793 of the treaty rights of the then states-general of Holland by the revolutionary French government, which led into war one of the most peace-loving ministers who ever presided over their fortunes—namely, Mr. Pitt, and in 1870 the agreements made with France and Prussia by Mr. Gladstone, if possible a stronger and more ardent advocate of peace than even Mr. Pitt, to cooperate with either of the belligerents if the other invaded Belgium neutrality.

Supporting his contention that they were withstanding a power whose aim was the domination of Europe, Mr. Asquith said it was indeed the avowed belief of the leaders of German thought that such a domination, carrying with it the supremacy of what they called German culture and the German spirit, was the best thing that could happen to the world.

To call at islands ports including Kahului and Hilo, the American-Hawaiian freighter Kentuckian is expected to depart Friday evening. This vessel will receive a quantity of new crop sugar before proceeding to the east coast of the United States by the way of Panama Canal.

BELGIANS WERE 'PERSUADED' TO DEFEND ANTWERP

[By Latest Mail]
THE HAGUE, Holland.—The Nieuwe Courant, a leading Dutch journal, publishes the following information, with out, however, any indication as to its source: "The Belgian government and the municipal authorities of Antwerp," it states, "seeing the Germans had determined to attack the town, were inclined to capitulate after having first sent away the troops, had not England intervened."

"Mr. Churchill was," the article proceeds, "sent to Antwerp to persuade the government to defend the town with all its strength, the assistance of British troops being promised. The English expected to be able to hold out for some time, but it was soon proved that they had miscalculated. "Before abandoning the town they succeeded in rendering the harbor and docks useless for many years to come by sinking a number of large vessels, chiefly German, in the docks. These ships cannot be raised or blown up without at the same time destroying the docks. The value of Antwerp as a harbor for the Germans is therefore rendered null, and this was evidently England's intention."
